Dramatic Society Schedules 'The Male Animal'

On December 2 and 3, the Dramatic Society will present its second production of the season in Cohn Hall. The title of the play is "The Male Animal," and it is written by James Thurber and Elliot Nugent. Price of admission is $1.25 stag or drag. The curtain will rise at 8:30 p.m.

The production of the play will be handled entirely by the students. Dennis Smyth will be directing and Marty Snyder will design the sets.

Notre Dame College has graciously supplied two young ladies for the production. They are Janet Pack and Rose Ann Spellanz. Julie Platz, who rounds out the trio of female stars, is a senior at the Institute of Notre Dame.

Male Leads

The male roles will be headed by Ed Slawski, Ed Connery and Thad Minninger. In supporting roles there are Dick Benges, Nick Chesno, and Paul Montgomery.

The Story

The setting is a small Midwestern College town. Thomas Turner is a quiet, unobtrusive English teacher. Joe Ferguson is a great All-American football hero, revisiting his Alma Mater. Joe and Tommy's wife, Ellen, were once engaged; and Joe's return with the news that he and his wife are being divorced does not fill Tommy with feelings of unmingled delight. The situation is complicated by a fiery editorial proclaiming Tommy's fearlessness, and the trustees fearing that he is a communist.

World Famous Pianist Entertains At Evergreen

On last Friday, Miss Ruslana Antonowicz gave a recital at Loyola's Cohn Hall. By the applause that she received it would seem that the famous pianist was well received.

Her playings of Mozart, Liszt, and Schuman were equally flawless and all well received, and it was also noted that her interpretation of Chopin was very refreshing. The capacity crowd which filled the hall was thrilled throughout the entire night and through their enthusiasm have insured future concerts on the Evergreen campus.

In the future, the concerts will include Loyola talent as well as talent from all over the world. The first concert will feature Loyola talent and the second, another guest.

Gorman Lecture Series Lists Sister Cleophas

On Thursday, December 1, at 2:00 P.M. in Xavier Lounge, the Gorman Lecture Society of Loyola College will present a talk by Sister Mary Cleophas on T. S. Eliot's, "The Elder Statesman." This address will mark the second exercise sponsored by the Gorman Society, the first being a piano recital by Ruslana Antonowicz, the internationally known pianist.

The coming speaker, Sister Cleophas, is the President of Mount St. Agnes College and a foremost authority on T. S. Eliot's writings. She received her doctorate in 1946 at Catholic University, with a dissertation called, "Between Fixity and Flux" about the poetry and criticism of T. S. Eliot.

Gorman's Fifth

Alpha Sigma Nu gave the Gorman Lecture Society its start, when they designated the new society to superintend the series which they had conducted for many years, five years ago. The society's next function will be in January when Philip Scharper, the editor of Sheed and Ward, will speak.

Loyola Nite

On the eve of the Thanksgiving holidays, the twenty-third annual presentation of "Loyola Nite" will be held at 8 o'clock in Cohn Hall. Fr. John J. Scanlan will again be moderator of the presentation.

Senior Dick Prodey will make his second appearance as Master of Ceremonies.

One of the features on the program will be the traditional imitation of the faculty but, at last, the old idea has backfired. This year several members of the faculty will do imitations of the students.

Tomorrow night from 9 P.M. until 1 A.M. Company 1-11 of the Scabbard and Blade, and Company G-15 of the Pershing Rifles will present the Ninth Annual Military Ball. The dance, which will be held in the Loyola College Gymnasium, is open to all students of Loyola College.

Admission to the dance is $5.00 per couple and the dress is formal. As has been customary, corsages are not necessary. The unique aspect of this year's Ball is the revised system of choosing the 1960 Military Ball Queen.

Chairman Of Dance

This year's chairman of the dance, Cadet Captain John P. Healy, anticipated the problems the Ball would pose and began working with his committeemen early last August. Organization has keynoted the preparations for the dance.

Intermission Activities

Highlighting the intermission ceremonies will be the presentation of the Queen's court and the 1960 Military Ball Queen. The candidates were chosen by the cadet brigade. However, this year the girls were interviewed by members of the Scabbard and Blade, who made the final decision. The outcome of the voting and interviews will not be known until tomorrow night.

The following girls are the Queen's candidates: Miss Susan Pritchard, Towson Senior High; Miss Dolores Shears, graduate of St. Agnes Hospital; Miss Stella Bahr, graduate of Brooklyn Park High; Mrs. Jane Budacz, graduate St. Michael's; Miss Pat Roche, graduate of Mt. St. Agnes High; Miss Sandy Brzozowski, Catholic High; Miss Erin Mulligan, Notre Dame College; Miss Dotty Ann Martin, Notre Dame Preparatory School; Miss Kathy Kennedy, St. Joseph's College.

A demonstration by the Trick Drill Team of the Pershing Rifles and the presentation of fourragers to the P.R. pledges will enhance the color and pageantry of the intermission activities. The Grand Promenade and the distribution of favors will capstone the festivities.

It is the popular belief that the Military Ball is the best dance of the year and the Ninth Annual Ball should not be the exception. As usual, Mass will be held in the Student Chapel after the dance.

Music

The music will be supplied by the Cavaliers. They are an all Army band from the Army Chemical Center and are returning for the second time.

Editorials

Unhappy News

Over the weekend a number of letters were received by parents of Loyola College students. The letters, which came from Dean Galvin, informed the parents that their progeny received deficiencies in one or more subjects.

It should be noted that these deficiencies are not a part of the students' permanent record, nor do they mean that a student is fated to fail in a particular subject at the end of the semester merely because he has been the recipient of a deficiency. Rather, the letters are meant to serve as a warning that the student has entered the danger zone and it is hoped that they will stimulate and encourage the student to redouble his efforts. There are many ways in which this wholesome goal can be accomplished, and we heartily offer the following as suggestions:

First of all, the student should set up a time schedule for himself, so that he can plan his hours for study during the week. This same idea holds true for the weekend. Careful planning results in allowing the student many hours for his necessary social activities.

Another method might be to curtail participation in extra-curricular activities. We are not inferring that a student should not participate in any activities, but that he should be selective in those he chooses.

In conclusion, let it be emphasized that deficiencies are not really "unhappy news" as was stated in the form letter. They are not an end in themselves, but a warning. Now that the danger signal has been flashed, it is up to the individual involved to make sure that his deficiencies do not become "unhappy news" in January. Ending on a happy note, we mention that there were 10% less deficiencies this year than last year.

Forewarned is forearmed.

the Watchdog

Anyone having trouble getting tickets to the Military Ball should contact John Healy. With a little luck he might be able to get you one.

During last Sunday's oyster roast a keg of beer mysteriously turned up in one senior's car. Strangely enough one keg was found to be missing from the roast. We wonder what the odds are, covering a coincidence like this?

The Fair Play for Cuba Committee of New York is offering a low cost trip to Cuba. Students will leave Miami on Dec. 23 and return Jan. 2. Excluding traitors, of course, round trip tickets, including expenses, are $100.00. Fighter cover will be provided by ME 109's. If interested, contact Jean Paul Sartre, Room 536, 799 Broadway N. Y. 3, N. Y.

Anyone interested in off-beat theories, ask Pete Cook what pianists do during intermissions.

John Feller comments on the Freshman Election Campaign:

"What's all that junk in the cafeteria?"

Doctor Kirwin has nothing against the younger generation taking evening drives. That is, he didn't, until last week's History Academy meeting. It seems that a teenager driving on one's lawn brings the question into a rather personal light, painfully.

Brad McNally wants to know if anyone on campus would be interested in buying 275, 59-60 year-books. Bulk prices will apply. Thirty cents a hundred pounds.

Who's the guy that brought the eighth grader to the Freshman Welcoming Dance?

This column could not have been produced without the capable assistance of Ralph Magenhofer.

We would like to call your attention to the Military Ball advertisements outside the Student Union building. These signs seem to be the work of a Burma Shave fan. Maybe that's why Bill Schmuck is always wearing band-aids!

The Greyhound Salutes KEN GRAY

When the 260 entering freshmen arrived at evergreen this September, one of the first faces to greet them was that of Kenny Gray. The impression that the tall, lanky senior got from the new class was one of interest and sincerity. "The attitude of the freshman class was among the best in the past several years," quipped Gray.

Ken Gray—student and President of the Student Council.

It was in a somewhat similar occasion, three years ago, that Ken was welcomed to Loyola as a member of the class of 1961. During his freshman year, he was in the Debating Club and a member of the varsity soccer team. The following years found him on the Greyhound, Green and Grey, A.S.O., Mendel Club, Yearbook, and, last year, a member of Alpha Sigma Nu. During his first two years here, Ken was elected treasurer of his class and last May, became the President of the Student Council.

As a pre-med student, Ken has been consistently on the Dean's list and works as an assistant in Biology lab. He plans to go to either Georgetown, Hopkins, or Maryland medical schools.

Commenting on the Student Council, Gray noted, "The council serves as a go-between the faculty and students and enables them to formulate ideas, suggestions, and sometimes, gripes. It is basically a representative organization; one of coordination."

Since his departure from his old alma mater, Loyola High, to his final year, Ken has demonstrated the qualities of leadership, school interest, and a willingness to participate fully in the many phases of college life. These fit him perfectly for the position of President of the Student Council.

Ken Gray and Fr. Bourbon discuss Student Council matters.

Frosh Officers To Be Elected On Wednesday

On Wednesday, November 23, the Freshman Class will hold its election. This election will be held in the student cafeteria from 11 A.M. to 2 P.M.

The Freshmen Class will select its choices for the offices of President, Vice-President, Secretary, Treasurer, and Student Council Representative. The list of the approved candidates has been posted on the Dean's Bulletin Board in the Library Building. The campaigning began last Monday.

First Class Meeting

At 10 A.M. in the Student Lounge The Freshman Class will hold its first meeting. P. Genovese, poll supervisor of the election committee, will moderate the meeting. One of the features of the meeting will be campaign speeches by the candidates.

Unity and Leadership

As in past years John Baynes, Chairman of the Election Committee, reports the predominance of organized tickets over independent runners. The Freshmen are encouraged that they should get out and vote. However, the most important issue is that the Freshmen seek leadership and unity in selecting their officers.

Spot News

Gleeful Mixer

Last Friday evening the Loyola College Glee Club had its first mixer of the year, held in conjunction with the Glee Club of Villa Julie College. Following the concert, the affair was by invitation only, and proved to be a great success.

Baby Talk

The senior class has planned a "Prohibition Daze" dance for January 28. Dick Prodey, senior class president, says that all information will be made public in the near future. He also confesses that there is no translation, as yet, for Master R. Michael Prodey's ambitious statement: "Oogg Agg Dada Doo."

Away We Go!!!

Reservations must be made by next Wednesday, Nov. 23, for all those who wish to travel to New York on Dec. 9 and 10. The basketball team will be playing Adelphi and Hofstra Colleges, and round-trip prices include admission to these games. Anyone who desires further information concerning prices, schedule and travel-time should see members of the Green and Grey Club.

Rol Sturm VIEWS Sports

Until December 1st the sport scene at Evergreen will be dormant. That is, none of the Hound teams will be competing in scheduled play until this time.

On this date, the Hound basketballers will travel to Seton Hall University for their first encounter. The natators will open their season a week later on December ninth against a strong Fordham team while the grapplers will be idle until January 7.

The Outlook

After posting a 8-6 conference win-loss record last year, the Loyola basketball team will not be considered a favorite to win the M-D crown. In spite of this, our Hounds have some fine talent on the squad that isn't going to concede the crown until, and unless, they are vanquished in the playoffs. John Heagney and company will be out to prove to B.U., A.U., and especially arch rival Mt. St. Mary's that, regardless of past records, the Hounds have the guns to enable them to go all the way.

Swimmers Improve

Coach Bill Klarner's fine tank team is going to be even stronger this year, due to the addition of some fine freshman talent. After dropping only one dual meet last year, and that to conference rival A. U., the Hound natators will certainly be an interesting team to watch.

The only team that can stop the Hounds from copping the Mason-Dixon title is A.U. who should be stronger than ever, due to a nationwide sales program. The advantage belongs to the Hounds, however, since Evergreen will be the site of this dual meet.

Experience To Help

Last year marked the return of Loyola to M-D Conference wrestling competition. Considering this fact, the Green and Grey posted a respectable four and four record. With the experience gained last year put to good use, the grapplers should improve on a very fine initial effort.

Ed Murn—Hound's leading rebounder

Rick Frampton Favored To Cop Tourney First

At 12:00 noon today, the cross-country team of Loyola College will embark upon their season's finale. They will be travelling to Bridgewater for the Mason-Dixon Championships. Although the "Hounds" are not being counted upon to walk away with the team championship, they will be fighting all the way and will return home in a very respectable position.

The one thing that Loyola is hoping to return home with is the individual conference champion. The Hound to do this is, of course, Rick Frampton, who is considered as the favorite.

Frampton's closest opposition is expected to come from Smilovitz of Hopkins, Jenkins of Roanoke, or from Coffren of Catholic U. who is the dark horse of the tourney. Coffren has come closer to Rick than anyone else all year. But as acting team captain Lew Smith said, "It's hard to beat a machine."

The Invitational

Last Saturday, Mount Saint Mary's won the Loyola Invitational with a team score of 41 followed by American University's 53, Loyola's 57, Towson's 74, and Washington College's 130. With just a little bit of luck, the Green and Grey might have finished second place above American U.

Washington College Meet

Rick Frampton broke Wayne Galatin's record by running the course in the time of 16 minutes and 2 and 4 tenths seconds. Denny Voith was tenth, Tom Kenney eleventh, and Lew Smith thirteenth as the top Loyola finishers.

The cross-country team defeated Washington College this past week by the margin of 21-41. It was the largest margin of victory in any one meet for the "Hounds" this year.

Rick Frampton again broke another course record and finished almost a minute ahead of team-mate Lew Smith. Bucky McCarthy was fourth, Tom Kenney fifth, Denny Voith seventh, Billy Jenkins eighth, and Francis Holland ninth as the Shoremen were really swamped by the improved Harriers.

Mat Matter

Last Monday, the 1960 version of the Wrestling team opened practice with fourteen candidates. Among the grapplers figuring prominently in this year's plans are the lamperl brothers, Tom and Bill, of the 123 and 130 pound classes.

At 145, 157, 167, 177, and unlimited are returnees Bill Donellan, Charlie Carey, Charlie Graham, Mike Buchness, and Tom "Animal" Kneavel, respectively.

Coach Dick Clem stresses the fact that no position has been tied down and all freshmen with a desire to wrestle should come out for the team. Experience is not necessary.

Moleskins make the pigskin fly as the Moleskins beat the Sharks.

Dukes, Moles, Hounddogs Vie For Touch Title

There has not been an intramural football game for the past two weeks, but director Nappy Doherty hopes that action will again be in full swing. Today a full schedule of games are on tap and all of them should be important.

On November 2, 1960, the stand-out freshman team the Sharks met the mighty Moleskins machine. The Moleskins triumphed 15-2 and moved into the top position on the league ladder. If they win their next tilt, "Mole" Vitrano's outfit will earn the right to meet the winner of the losers bracket in the championship tilt.

Charley Carey and Lou Lomp registered the points for the Moleskins, Charley on an intercepted pass and Lou on a 15 yard pass from quarterback John Coleman. Coleman also tallied the winner's extra points.

Moleskin Matter

On the same day the Mafia moved up a rung on the loser's bracket by virtue of a forfeit victory over the Dippers. The Sharks are tied with the Mafia for the top rung in the loser's bracket.

As of right now the Moleskins have a pretty good chance of gaining the crown. Nappy Doherty says the Moleskins will probably be the team to beat "because of their strong defense."

The Contenders

The Hound Dogs and Dukes should give the Moleskins the hardest time. The Dukes in particular have been waiting for a year to play Mole's squad. This fact alone should produce a pretty good game. The addition of Steve Bogusky to the line should strengthen the hopes of the Dukes.

The Hound Dogs led by Mike Rose and Nick Jackson are also well-fortified. The way the league is set up the Hound Dogs meet the Dukes if the latter wins their next game. The winner of this potential Hound Dog Duke game will meet the Moleskins for the winner's bracket title.

Right now only two teams have been eliminated. Although the aforementioned teams will probably be the ones to watch, any one could cop the crown. Watch out Moleskins!

Tough Tankmen Improve With Freshmen Help

With the addition of some promising freshmen to an already fine nucleus of veterans Coach Bill Klarner has molded a fine swim team for the 1960-61 season. Leading scorers Marty Pilsch and Ken Freimuth will be back to spark the Hounds.

In the 50-yd. freestyle, Senior Pete Powley heads up a fine group of swimmers including Frosh Charlie Brooks and Charlie Bree. Bree can swim all of the freestyle events and will swim where he is most needed. In the 100-yd. freestyle Powley, Sr. Tony Hughes, and Soph Phil Young hold forth. Marty Pilsch spearheads the Hounds in the 220 and 440 yd. freestyles. Backing up Marty in the 220 are Freshman Al Kubeluis, and Junior Jerry Preis. In the 440, Coach Klarner can choose from among Soph Phil Fry, and Freshmen Joe Metz and Bree to go with Pilsch.

In the 200 yd. backstroke The Hounds have Junior Lew Smith and Soph Jim Burns. Ken Freimuth, Senior Paul Karpers, Jr. Jim Sydnor and Soph Neil Ames give the Hounds much depth in the 200 yd. butterfly. Freimuth also swims in the 200 yd. breaststroke and the individual medley. In the medley, Ken is backed up by Jr. Ted Herget and Charlie Bree. Herget and Ames fill out the breaststroke.

Juniors Vic Corbin and Joe Orlando are the Hound divers. The freestyle relay team is usually Powley, Hughes, Pilsch and Bree, but Phil Young can also fill in. In the medley relay, our best team is Freimuth, Smith, Karpers, and Powley.
